Shri Renuka Mata Mandir in Mahurgad, Nanded, Maharashtra is a highly revered Hindu pilgrimage site. It is recognized as one of the three and a half Shakti Peethas (the supreme seats of power) in Maharashtra. Perched atop a scenic hill in the Sahyadri range, the temple is dedicated to Goddess Renuka, the mother of Lord Parshuram (an incarnation of Lord Vishnu). [1, 2, 3, 4, 5]

Core Information & Timings

- Temple Timings: Open daily from 6:00 AM to 8:30 PM.
- Peak Days: The temple remains heavily crowded on Tuesdays, Fridays, and weekends.
- Special Festivals: The energy is highest during Navratri (September/October) and the grand annual fair held on Vijayadashami (Dasara).
- Main Offering: The unique prasad of the goddess is Tambul, which is a finely powdered form of betel leaf (paan) mixed with traditional aromatic ingredients. [2, 6, 7, 8, 9]

Key Highlights & Religious Significance

- The Divine Deity: Inside the sanctum sanctorum, the idol worshipped is a 5-foot-tall, saffron-coated (shandurcharchit) head of Goddess Renuka. According to mythological lore, her head fell here after her son Parshuram followed his father's commands, making the site a central hub for the Shaktism sect. [10, 11]
- The Sacred Climb: Worshippers need to climb roughly 200 to 250 stone steps to reach the shrine. For elderly visitors or those with restricted mobility, doli (palanquin) services are readily available at the base. [12, 13, 14]
- Surrounding Wilderness: Unlike many city temples, Mahurgad is nestled inside dense, green teakwood forests teeming with wildlife, giving it a peaceful, nature-centric environment. [10, 15, 16, 17]

How to Reach Mahurgad

The town of Mahur is well-connected by multiple transit options across Maharashtra: [18]

Mode [2, 18, 19, 20, 21]	Route & Logistics
🚙 By Road	It is roughly 130 km from Nanded city. Frequent state transport (MSRTC) buses and private cabs run directly from the Nanded Bus Stand and Yavatmal.
🚂 By Rail	The closest railhead is Kinwat Railway Station (approx. 50 km away). Alternatively, Nanded Railway Station is the more prominent and widely used hub for long-distance trains.
✈️ By Air	Shri Guru Gobind Singh Ji Airport in Nanded is the closest airport (approx. 130 km). Travelers also use Nagpur Airport (approx. 200 km away) due to better interstate flight connectivity.

Nearby Religious & Historical Attractions

A trip to Mahurgad is often planned as a full-day or weekend itinerary to cover the holy "Mahur Trinity" and local heritage sites: [4, 15, 22]

- Lord Dattatreya Temple: Situated on an adjacent hill range, dedicated to the divine trinity.
- Anusaya Mata Temple: Dedicated to the mother of Lord Dattatreya.
- Lord Parshuram Temple: Located just a short flight of steps down from the main Renuka Devi temple.
- Mahurgad Fort: A sprawling 12th-century fortress just 2 km away, built by the Yadavas of Devgiri, offering breathtaking panoramic valley views. [3, 8, 10, 11]

Location

The Shri Renuka Devi Mandir is situated on a scenic hillock within the dense forests of Mahurgad (Mahur), located in the Nanded district of Maharashtra, India. It sits at an elevation of approximately 2,600 feet above sea level.

How to Get There

- By Air: The nearest major operational airport is Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar International Airport in Nagpur (approx. 200 km). Sri Guru Gobind Singh Ji Airport in Nanded is closer (approx. 120 km) but has limited commercial flight connectivity.
- By Rail: The closest local railway station is Kinwat (50 km away). However, Nanded Railway Station (126 km away), which is well-connected to major Indian cities via the South Central Railway network, is the most practical choice for long-distance travelers.
- By Road: Mahur is well-connected by Maharashtra State Road Transport Corporation (MSRTC) buses and private taxis from Nanded, Yavatmal, Pusad, and Kinwat.
- Ascent to the Temple: To reach the main shrine from the foothills, devotees must climb a paved path consisting of approximately 200 to 250 stone steps. For elderly pilgrims or those with mobility issues, palanquin (doli) services are locally available.

Speciality of this Temple

This temple is widely revered as one of the complete Shakti Peethas of Maharashtra (out of the traditional three and a half Shakti Peethas). In regional tradition, it represents the Mahamaya aspect of the supreme feminine energy. It is considered the birthplace of Lord Parashurama and is an ancient center of the Shakti and Nath traditions.

History and Legends

According to the Devi Bhagavata Purana and local lore, Renuka was the daughter of King Renuka and the devoted wife of the sage Jamadagni. She possessed immense spiritual power, enabling her to mold unbaked sand into water pots through her sheer purity. One day, a brief momentary distraction while fetching water caused her to lose this power. Suspecting her fidelity, the enraged Sage Jamadagni ordered his sons to execute her.

While the other sons refused, her youngest son, Lord Parashurama, obeyed his father's command and beheaded his mother. Pleased with his obedience, Jamadagni granted Parashurama a boon. Parashurama immediately requested that his mother be brought back to life. It is believed that the severed head of Mata Renuka came to rest on the hill of Mahurgad, where she chose to manifest permanently to bless her devotees. Another closely related legend notes that she later committed Sati here on her husband's funeral pyre following an attack by King Sahasrarjuna.

Architecture

The temple exhibits traditional regional fortress-style architecture (Gad architecture), sharing its hilltop space with the historical Mahurgad Fort. The shrine structure features a distinct, vibrant red central dome resting on carved pillars that feature white upper accents and red bases. The temple complex is surrounded by large open stone courtyards, defensive stone ramparts, and ancient bastions constructed using limestone and brick masonry across various historical eras, including the Kadamba and Yadava periods.

Main Deity and Subdeities

- Main Deity: The sanctum sanctorum houses the main idol of Goddess Renuka Devi (also locally revered as Jagdamba or Yellamma). The icon focuses heavily on her beautifully adorned face and head, draped in traditional textiles, silver armor, and heavy gold ornaments.
- Subdeities: Shrines dedicated to her husband, Sage Jamadagni, her son, Lord Parashurama, and the protective regional guardian deity, Kshetrapala Bhairava, are located within the immediate vicinity.

Daily Rituals, Poojas, and Charges

The temple opens daily from 6:00 AM to 8:30 PM. Devotees are permitted to participate in public viewing (Darshan) and congregational arati prayers throughout the day.

- Daily Abhishek Puja: Standard rituals involving the symbolic offering of milk, curd, ghee, honey, and water typically occur in blocks between 9:00 AM – 11:00 AM and 12:30 PM – 2:00 PM.
- Basic Online/Offline Registrations: Simple symbolic Abhishek or offering rituals generally begin around ₹399.

Special Poojas and Charges

During special lunar phases, Tuesdays, Fridays, and full-moon nights, elaborate ritual services can be booked through traditional family priests (Pujaris):

- Navchandi Path / Vidhi: An extensive multi-hour scriptural recitation and fire offering dedicated to the victory of the Goddess. Rates for these elaborate arrangements typically start from ₹4,099 upwards depending on the scale of the materials provided.
- Nanda Dip Puja: Regular sponsorship of the holy oil lamps inside the inner sanctum.

(Note: Official temple trust ritual structures change periodically; exact, updated fee sheets should be verified directly with the administration desk upon arrival.)

Festivals Celebrated

- Navratri (Ashvin & Chaitra): The nine nights of Navratri feature elaborate floral decorations, continuous scriptural readings, and massive influxes of pilgrims.
- Dasara: A grand annual fair (Jatra) is organized down the hillsides, drawing hundreds of thousands of visitors.
- Datta Purnima: Celebrated with great fervor due to Mahur's deep connections with Lord Dattatreya.
- Gudi Padwa, Nag Panchami, and Pola: Celebrated with specific traditional regional offerings.

Facilities Available for Devotees

- Accommodation: The official Sansthan manages a Bhakt Niwas providing affordable rooms and community halls for travelers. Clean private guest options managed by religious organisations, such as the Thakur Nivas near the auto stand, offer rooms ranging from basic non-AC varieties (approx. ₹800 - ₹1,000) to family AC suites (approx. ₹1,500 - ₹2,100).
- Amenities: Basic drinking water stations, luggage cloakrooms, shoe stalls, and a series of local dining outlets serving traditional Maharashtrian vegetarian meals are situated along the base paths.

Do's and Don'ts

- Do's: Dress in modest, respectful attire suitable for a traditional Hindu temple. Maintain neat queues during busy festival hours. Take your time while ascending the stone steps, especially in warm weather.
- Don'ts: Photography and videography are strictly prohibited inside the inner sanctum sanctorum. Do not carry leather items or large bags near the deity area. Avoid littering along the forested hill paths.

Nearby Temples

- Anasuya Mata Temple: Located on a separate hill crest nearby, dedicated to the mother of Lord Dattatreya.

- Devdeveshwar Temple: Associated with the Mahanubhav Panth, marking the resting place of Lord Dattatreya.
- Datta Shikhar: A high vantage point housing a dedicated footprint shrine for Lord Dattatreya.
- Shri Ekveera Devi Temple: Another highly revered local Shakti site.

Nearby Hotels

For travelers seeking modern comforts beyond the traditional pilgrim lodges (Bhakt Niwas), options within the general Nanded-Mahur stretch include:

- Hotel Aadishakti Lodging and Restaurant (Mahurgad)
- Hotel Krishna Palace (Mahur)
- Hotel Nirmalai Homestay (Mahurgad)
- AAI Renuka Dham Lodge (Mahurgad)

Nearby Tourist Spots

- Mahurgad Fort: An expansive historical hill fort surrounding the temple structures, featuring 19 ancient stone bastions, the massive Hatti Darwaza (Elephant Gate), and the ruins of the Rani Mahal.
- Pandav Leni: Ancient rock-cut caves located approximately 1.5 km away from the main town center.
- Injale (Parvesh) Lake: A peaceful water reservoir situated along the historical descent path from the fort.

Donation Info and Contact Number

The administration of the core temple complex is overseen by the official Shri Renuka Devi Sansthan, Mahur, a statutory trust chaired ex-officio by the District and Sessions Judge of Nanded.

- Official Sansthan Website: https://shrirenukadevi.in/
- Official Temple Inquiry Desk: +91 77438 65767 / +91 75170 26111
- Donation Protocols: Donations can be made directly via cash or digital modes at the secure counting counters inside the temple courtyard, where official stamped receipts are issued under standard tax-exemption rules.

(Note: Independent philanthropic organizations, such as the Renuka Devi Mata Mahur Gadh Charitable Trust based in Mumbai, operate separately for general social welfare but do not manage the physical hilltop temple operations.)

Renuka Devi Mandir, Mahurgad, Nanded, Maharashtra

*Location:

Renuka Devi Mandir (also known as Shri Renuka Mata Temple or Mahurgad Devi Temple) is located atop a hillock in Mahurgad (Mahur), Nanded district, Maharashtra. It is about 2–2.5 km from the village of Mahur and sits amidst the scenic Sahyadri hills. Mahur is roughly 130 km northeast of Nanded city.

*How to Get There:

- By Air: Nearest airport is Nanded (approx. 100–130 km). From there, take a taxi, cab, or bus to Mahur.
- By Train: Nearest railway station is Kinwat (about 50 km). State transport buses or taxis are available from Kinwat. Nanded Junction is another option with more connectivity.
- By Road: Well-connected by MSRTC buses from Nanded, Yavatmal, Nagpur, Pusad, etc. Private taxis or self-drive via NH161/SH224 is feasible. The temple is a short climb (200–250 steps) from the base; dolis (palanquins) are available for those unable to climb.

*Speciality of This Temple:

It is one of the prominent Shakti Peethas (considered one of the three and a half in Maharashtra) and is believed to be the birthplace of Goddess Renuka (mother of Lord Parashurama). The main murti is a swayambhu (self-manifested) head of the Goddess. It is a major pilgrimage site linked to Shaktism, with strong associations to Parashurama and Dattatreya traditions. The location offers panoramic hill views and is revered for fulfilling wishes, progeny blessings, and protection.

*History and Legends:

The temple is ancient, reportedly built by a Yadava king of Devagiri (Deogiri) around 800–900 years ago (13th century). According to legend, Renuka was the wife of Sage Jamadagni. After a conflict involving King Sahasrarjuna (over the divine cow Kamadhenu), Renuka and her husband faced tragedy. Parashurama carried his father's body and mother to Mahur, where last rites were performed. Renuka is said to have committed Sati, and her head is believed to have manifested here. It is also linked to parts of Goddess Sati's body in Shakti Peetha lore. Mahur was known as Matripura/Matapur.

*Architecture:

The temple follows Chalukya and Rashtrakuta styles with intricately carved stone walls and grand pillars. The sanctum houses the swayambhu head of Renuka Devi, adorned with gold ornaments. There are sculptures of Parashurama, Jamadagni (as Shiva linga), and other deities. The complex includes additional shrines (e.g., Ganesha, Siddheshwara). It is perched on a hill with surrounding caves.

*Main Deity and Subdeities:

- *Main Deity: Goddess Renuka Devi (head form, also called Mahurgad Devi or Yellamma).
- *Subdeities/Associated: Parashurama, Jamadagni (Shiva linga), Ganesha, Siddheshwara, Eknath, Mallikarjuna, and nearby temples to Dattatreya and Anusaya Mata on adjacent hills.

Daily Rituals and Poojas and Their Charges:

The temple is generally open from around 6:00 AM to 8:00/10:00 PM. Key aartis include Mangala Aarti (early morning) and Sandhya Aarti (evening). Common offerings include abhishek, naivedyam, kumkumarchana. Prasad often includes tambul (betel), pan-supari, or special sand. Charges vary; online platforms list options starting from a few hundred rupees (e.g., Abhishek ~₹399+, Kumkumarchana ~₹649+ for 2 yajmans). Local pujaris handle on-site poojas—exact current rates should be confirmed at the temple.

*Special Poojas and Their Charges:

Special poojas include Navchandi Path, Durga Saptashati, Panchamrit Abhishek, Bhogi Puja, etc. Prices on booking sites range from ₹349 (Vida Prasad) to ₹4000+ for more elaborate ones like Navchandi. Self-aarti is allowed on certain occasions. Thulabharam (offering coins equal to body weight) is a common vow fulfillment. Check with the temple administration for exact schedules and fees.

*Festivals Celebrated:

Major festivals include Navratri (especially Chaitra and Sharad), Vijayadashami/Dasara (grand fair with thousands of devotees), Dattatreya Jayanti, Diwali, Gudi Padwa, Pousha Purnima, Naga Panchami. Dasara features a large fair, processions, and cultural events.

Facilities Available for Devotees (Accommodation, etc.):

- *Accommodation: Options in Mahur town (about 7 km or closer to base). Includes Bhakta Niwas, Thakur Nivas, Hotel Pushkraj Palace, Hotel Ekvira Dham, Krishna Palace, and government rest houses/lodges. Both AC/non-AC rooms available; some with food/parking. Book via local or platforms like YatraDham.
- Other facilities: Basic amenities at the base, prasad stalls, and dolis for the climb.

*Do's and Don'ts:

- Do: Maintain cleanliness, dress traditionally/modestly, follow queue for darshan, respect rituals.
- Don't: Photography is generally not allowed inside the sanctum; avoid littering, especially on the sacred hill. Follow temple guidelines during crowded festivals.

Nearby Temples:

Dattatreya Temple (Datta Shikhar), Anusaya Mata Temple (Atri Anasuya Shikhar), Parashuram Temple, Mahakali Temple (in Mahurgad Fort), Devdeveshwar Temple.

Nearby Hotels:

In Mahur/Mahurgad: Hotel Pushkraj Palace, Thakur Nivas, Hotel Pawar Homestay, Hotel Ekvira Dham, etc. More options in Nanded city.

Nearby Tourist Spots:

- Mahurgad Fort (2 km, panoramic views).
- Pandav Leni Caves.
- Matru-Tirtha, Sarvatirtha, Bhanutirth.
- Shaikh Farid Waterfall (Wazara), Unkeshwar Hot Springs (farther), Sahastrakund Waterfall.

Donation Info with Contact Phone Number:

Donations can be made to Shri Renuka Devi Sansthan or associated trusts (e.g., Renuka Devi Mata Mahur Gadh Charitable Trust). For specifics, visit the official site or contact the temple.
- One contact example: Pujari Shubham Sambhaji Bhopi Patil (related to temple rituals) — 7775833312.
- Other numbers from sources: Check shrirenukadevi.in or local administration for official donation channels.

Any Other Info:

- Prasad: Often tambul or sacred sand (believed to have healing properties for certain ailments).
- Best time to visit: October to March; avoid peak summer.
- The site combines pilgrimage with natural beauty and history—ideal for devotees and trekkers. Always verify latest timings, charges, and road conditions locally, as they can change. For online pooja bookings, platforms like YatraDham are available.

This is a revered site—plan your visit with respect and devotion. Safe travels!
